SUSPECT FACES QUESTIONING IN COED SLAYING

Sheriff Seeks New Witnesses To Contradict Violinist's Alibi He Was Home

ADMITS CASE DIFFICULT

Cites Other Persons Who Say They Saw Musician Around Town Night of Crime

By The Associated Press

ASHEVILLE N C [illegible] Sheriff Laurence E Brown announced today he [illegible] checking statements [illegible] Mark Wollner and his alibi witness Mrs Ward and [illegible] would question [illegible] Wollner in the hotel room slaying of Helen Clevenger

Wollner internationally known violinist the sheriff said had not been questioned except briefly when he was locked up Saturday

The sheriff said flatly he would not release Wollner Mrs Ward or Daniel H Gadd hotel night watchman who also is in custody during the day

Similar To Tillerton Case

The Clevenger slaying was described by Brown as the Tillerton case of the south referring to the fiendish murder of Nancy Tillerton writer and wife of a broadcasting company executive in New York In that case the [illegible] traced by a piece of twine and convicted

We realize we're [illegible] a tough case just as tough as the Tillerton case the sheriff said It took New York officers two weeks with a whole city police force to solve the Tillerton case and I hope we can solve this one within that time I have eight deputies working on the case

The sheriff said he was looking for other witnesses to add to a number he said would contradict Wollner's alibi that he was at home throughout the night when the pretty 18-year old New York university coed was shot to death by an intruder who stabbed her in the face and attempted to assault her

Has Studio Across Street

Wollner who has been estranged from his wife for two years has a studio across the street from the hotel

Miss Watu at whose home the German born violinist roomed was detained after she corroborated Wollner's statement he had been at home between 9 30 p m Wednesday and 9 30 a m Thursday

A frail sickly girl she finally was quoted after several hours of questioning as adding to her original statement that Mark phoned me a little before he was arrested and asked me where was I last night?

Tells of Date at Hotel

Sheriff Brown said he has found a witness who heard Wollner say last Wednesday

I've got a date tonight with a girl at the Battery Park I met two days ago

Declaring these other witnesses some of whose names he withheld contradicted the young musician's alibi Sheriff Brown summarized

From 9 to 10 p m the night of the crime a cafe owner saw Wollner eating dinner

Between 10 and 10 30 p m Doug Iller an Asheville reporter saw Wollner drinking beer

At 2 a m a girl witness saw Wollner on the street

At 6 a m Charles English 19 noticed the musician drinking coffee at a lunch room

At 6 30 a m Miss Leada Whitaker and Mrs P [illegible] Paker who live next door to the Ward saw Wollner come home

Gets Written Statements

The sheriff said he had obtained written statements from English Miss Whitaker and Mr Paker

PARTY LEADERS STUDY TACTICS

Jockey for Right Position on Big Issues, Landon To Accept Nomination Thursday

NEW FACTORS INVOLVED

Drouth, Labor Trouble and Third Party Movement Require Very Close Scrutiny.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 20—That old problem in politics as in war—tactic —is pushing to the fore as party leaders await the speech by Gov Alf M Landon of Kansas accepting the Republican presidential nomination in Topeka Thursday

With new and potentially important factors such as drouth organized labor dissension and developments at the Townsend convention entering the picture daily all hands are watching to see which particular issues the presidential candidates choose to stress and how they will maneuver their shock troops

None of the candidates has committed himself publicly to a hard and fast course But all have indicated determination to strike out aggressively with arguments subordinating party loyalties to fundamental principles

Both Gov Landon and President Roosevelt have been in consultation with their lieutenants on the tasks ahead One angle is the integration of the national campaigns with those for the senate in a third of the states for the entire house of representatives and for 36 governorships as well as innumerable local offices

The persuading of Gov Herbert Lehman to run for reelection in New York and the decision of Frank Murphy to stand for governor in Michigan had their points in Democratic planning

Mr Roosevelt is expected to do his share of new deal speechmaking Vice President Garner's plans remain to be made

The principal Republican stumping in the west will be by the vice presidential nominee Col Frank Knox Landon's plans evidently will place him in the east first

Hamilton In New England

His campaign manager John D M Hamilton has been giving special attention recently to New England Indications point to a mighty effort by both parties especially in Maine

The manner in which the old party generals seek to deal with challenges from other camps remains to be revealed in detail The administration is under special fire just now from Rep William Lemke Republican of North Dakota presidential candidate of the new Union party

Dr F E Townsend Fr Charles E Coughlin and Rev Gerald L K Smith have rallied behind Lemke but the Townsend convention decided not to indorse any candidate

Three other minor party candidates Norman Thomas Socialist and former Marion man D Leigh Colvin prohibitionist and Earl Browder Communist—have spoken out against both Roosevelt and Landon

There are several organized attempts to break across traditional party lines Labor's Non-Partisan league favoring the new deal said in a statement published today that leaders in 92 crafts and officials of 47 unions have signed up

Janitor Arriving for Work Discovers Second Break in This Year

Loot valued at between $100 and $150 was taken from the Elks club rooms at 120 South State street by burglars who ransacked rooms on the second floor of the Elks building early Sunday morning A large portion of the loot was in small change while an undetermined amount of stock was also reported taken

The burglary was discovered by M [illegible] of High street janitor for the club when he arrived for work at 6 30 Sunday morning He found a window had been removed from the door at the entrance to the club rooms and reported the break to W P Hayden of 91 South Prospect street manager of the club rooms

Mr Hayden called the police who investigated and found the entire second floor of the club rooms had been ransacked Cabinet drawers and doors leading to storage rooms had been pried open and the furnishings were in disorder police said Time of the burglary was fixed between 1 45 a m when Mr Hayden left the club and 6 30 a m when the break-in was discovered by Mr [illegible]

Police found a rear fire escape door leading to the street at the southeast corner of the building had been opened and it is thought the burglars left by the fire escape

The glass had been taken from the entrance door by prying off the moulding which held it in place police said The Elks occupy both the second and third floors of the building but nothing had been disturbed on the third floor where lodge rooms are located police said

The burglary served to recall a former break-in at the Elks club earlier this year Approximately $[illegible] in cash and stock was taken at that time

DISMISSAL OF CHARGE URGED

Kin of Crash Victims Asks Withdrawal of Manslaughter Charge She Filed.

COURT REFUSES REQUEST

Three Witnesses Testify at Hearing Bond Cut from $1 000 to $250

C W Porter 37 of 471 East Center street was bound over to the grand jury under a reduced bond of $250 by Municipal Judge W R Martin at noon today following his preliminary hearing on a charge of second degree manslaughter The charge was filed after a bus driven by Porter figured in an accident west of Meeker July 11 in which four persons were burned to death

Judge Martin's action came after relatives of the crash victims had sought to withdraw the charge which had been filed by Mrs Nellie Arnold of Warsaw Ind a sister of Carl McGuire one of the victims

In a statement from the bench Judge Martin refused their request and said he was binding Porter over to the grand jury "for the purpose of clearing the defendant's name if for no other reason The proper channels should be used to do that and therefore the defendant should be bound over to the grand jury so that it may take whatever action it sees fit

Orders Bond Lowered

Judge Martin said that considering the seriousness of the accident he could not permit the charge to be withdrawn He reduced the bond from $1,000 to $250 which has been furnished

Mrs Arnold telephoned here this morning from Warsaw Ind to inform authorities of her desire to withdraw the charge attorneys said Earlier this morning Grant L Mouser Jr defense counsel had talked by telephone with John Plaller of Columbus a brother-in-law of the late Mr McGuire who he said informed him of Mrs Arnold's wish to withdraw the charge

Mr Plaller now a teacher at North High school formerly was athletic coach at Marion High school from 1913 until about 1917 Mr Mouser said

Prosecutor Paul D Michel after Mr Mouser had asked in court for dismissal of the affidavit told the court he felt it should not be dismissed and contended that the state law was violated by Porter in that he did not have the bus under proper control

Witnesses at the hearing were Coroner M J Axthelm and State Highway Patrolmen J M Kratzer and Ray H Stewart

Testimony Given

Testimony that Mr McGuire and a son John James, the only survivor of the McGuire car, saw the bus approaching as they drove on to the highway was given by Patrolman Kratzer He said that the youth in a statement made while he was in Antonio hospital at Lenton said he spoke to his father about the bus and remarked that it was a Greyhound bus No it's a brown one the youth said his father replied

Kratzer also testified the youth told him the clutch on the car jerked suddenly causing the car to go out onto the highway Young McGuire also told Kratzer he testified that he had opened a door of the car and looked out to see if the tail light was on McGuire said the light was on while Porter and two passengers on the bus made statements that the rear light was not on

Patrolman Stewart testified about the measurements of skid marks made by the car and bus From the west driveway from where McGuire said he drove onto the highway to the point where the car went into the ditch measured 137½ feet Stewart said

Coroner Testifies

Coroner Axthelm also testified that young McGuire told of seeing lights coming down the highway but that the youth said he could not remember how far down the road they appeared to be

LEMKE FAVORS PENSION PLAN

Union Party Candidate Does Not Directly Indorse Townsend System However.

DISSENSION AT PARLEY

Movement's Founder for Coughlin's Man but Convention Votes Against Support

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 20. [illegible] tionally weary delegates to the second Townsend national convention returned to their homes today with the indorsement by presidential candidate William Lemke of the old age revolving pension "to give honest and fair compensation to old people."

The Union party's ticket leader did not directly indorse the Townsend plan in his address yesterday which brought the five day conclave to a close.

"The details of such legislation must of course be worked out by your organization and congress," said the representative from North Dakota at Cleveland stadium.

Hits at Roosevelt

Terming the program of the present administration "national lunacy," he added "we no longer have representative government. Due to a corrupt patronage system your congressmen no longer write the laws. They are prepared by a brainless brain trust, no one of whom could have been elected to office."

The question of how the Townsend family would vote in the November national election was officially undecided as 15,000 old delegates left to carry on their battle for Townsend-indorsed senatorial and congressional candidates.

By resolution the convention decided not to indorse at any time during the campaign directly or indirectly any presidential or vice presidential candidate and that speeches delivered before the conclave represented only views of the speakers.

Dr. F. E. Townsend, the movement's founder, announced plans to tour principal cities with Lemke and yesterday urged his followers to support members of congress pledged to the Townsend program.

Lemke Favors Townsend

"They are your game," said the gaunt pension chief. "I'm going after bigger meat." Lemke at the same time, put himself four square behind the doctor "in the great fight he is making on behalf of the citizens in our country."

A declaration Saturday by Norman Thomas, Socialist party presidential nominee and a former Marion man, that the Townsend plan was not feasible drew loud boos. Thomas and Lemke were the only presidential candidates to speak.

As the delegates yesterday listened to Dr. Townsend, Lemke and Rev. Gerald Smith, who renewed his attacks on the Roosevelt administration, Gomer Smith made a radio address charging that the convention degenerated into a political circus "to the great internal and gratification of its enemies."

Referring to Fr. Coughlin's entrance to the convention hall last week, Gomer said "down the middle aisle he came like a bride, with Gerald Smith (of Louisiana) on one side and Dr. Townsend on the other. The ovation was terrific, the audience was aroused to an emotional pitch equalled only in a good old fashioned revival in the deep south."

Denounces Priest's Language

"He (Fr. Coughlin) levelled his vituperous tongue at the person of the President, going so far in the heat of his wrath and semi-nakedness as to call the President a double-crosser and a liar. No President should ever be permitted to be the subject of such vilification."

Meanwhile John B. Kiefer of Chicago, mid-western regional organizer, announced that he would present his resignation from the board of directors at a board meeting scheduled today. While Kiefer declined comment, an informed source said he was displeased when control of the pension movement was not turned over to the board.

The name of the late Sen. Huey P. Long was repeatedly mentioned by Smith, Sheridan Downey, Dr. Townsend's counsel, and once or twice by Lemke.

SUSPECT FACES QUIZ IN KILLING OF COED

He quoted Miss Whitaker as saying:

"I saw Wollner come home about 6 a. m. He walked as though his leg were hurt. He knocked on the window of Miss Ward's room and then went up the back steps.

"Five hours later I saw Wollner and Miss Ward come onto the back porch. Miss Ward tried to keep the man from leaving but he broke away. He was carrying a pair of trousers under his arm."

Reaching the street, Sheriff Brown said Miss Whitaker related, Wollner got into an automobile a woman was driving.

The sheriff declined to say whether the name of the woman driver was known or whether she had been questioned.

STEEL DEMAND FAIR; OUTPUT CUT A POINT

Wheeling and Youngstown Districts Advance Labor Trouble Boosts Orders

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 20. [illegible] Steel today [illegible] demand for steel [illegible] by [illegible] and miscellaneous [illegible] operations [illegible] week [illegible] compared with 49 per cent at the same time last year.

The [illegible] production rise of the week was in the Wheeling district, up 12 points to 81. Steel said. The Youngstown district was the only other to advance, gaining two points to 78 per cent.

Steel mills are still under heavy pressure for speedy deliveries and some are booked solidly until the middle of next month, the publication said.

Labor organization in steel is driving in a certain amount of tonnage from consumers seeking to build up stocks as a hedge against possible interruptions in production. Buying attributed to this situation has been particularly noticeable in material on which mills are quoting deferred deliveries.

Steel and automobile assemblies last week were down 6,516 units to 91,317.

executive board and all members of the area council and their families.

Camp Owens is named in memory of the late John A. Owens, who was a member of Troop 5 of Marion.

Camp Opened Aug. 9, 1926

The camp was opened for the first time on Aug. 9, 1926 with 30 boys in camp under W. C. Brown, camp director, and Jack Melvin, his assistant.

Formal dedication ceremonies were held on Aug. 29, 1926 under the direction of the first camping committee, consisting of Harry R. Adams, chairman, Loring K. Warner, C. K. Scott and Frank C. Morrison.

From its original outlay as a small circle of tents, the camp has grown until it now comprises five separate camp sites, three of which are equipped and are being improved each year.

C. H. Isaly succeeded Mr. Adams as chairman of the camping committee in 1927 and served through 1932. Dr. F. B. Mann was the next chairman, serving until the end of 1934, when he was succeeded by the present chairman, C. M. Howser.

Awards Made

Awards were made Friday night at a council fire held to mark the close of the second camping period. Robert Lewis, senior patrol leader of Troop 2, lit the council fire with R. I. Acker, neighborhood commissioner, presiding at the council of honor. Arthur S. Brooks, Harding Area scout executive, was in charge of the campfire program which was closed with taps sounded by Robert Campbell of Troop 4. Chet Evans led campfire singing.

The awards follow:

Second class badges—Paul Davis of Troop 2, William Clevenger and Leonard Meikitt of Troop 4, presented by Herman Rhu Jr., camp staff member; merit badges presented by Edmond Hoser, waterfront director, to Robert Lewis of Troop 2, swimming, life saving and scholarship; Merle Aukland of Troop 7, swimming; John Corwin and Richard Acker of Troop 1, swimming; Rodney Mapes of Troop 13, swimming.

Red Cross beginning swimmers buttons were presented to Kenneth Ellington, William Turner, Paul Davis, Richard Smith, Eugene Wenninger and Robert Turner; swimmers buttons to Richard Acker, John Corwin, Robert Lewis, Chet Dane and Michel Rech. Robert Lewis was presented his junior life saving badge.

Four were injured when a revival meeting tent collapsed at Pittsburg, Mo. Four hundred other revivalists were unhurt when their tent was blown down at Kansas City, Kas.

An inch of rain fell at Cameron, Mo., half an inch at Pattonsburg and a quarter of an inch at Plattsburg. Dust was spewed into Kansas City, Mo., and building damaged.

The temperature dropped 23 degrees in Leavenworth as trees were snapped and electrical service disrupted.

Precipitation measured .10 of an inch at Omaha, the first appreciable rain since June 10 and the mercury dropped to 68, the lowest in weeks. The wind briefly reached 84 miles an hour velocity.

Rain ranging up to nearly an inch was fairly well distributed over Iowa.

At Des Moines the dust-bearing gale blew 70 miles an hour, ripping off the roof of the state fair grand stand.

Hail damaged corn at Rushmore, Bigelow and Wilmont, Minn., but in that section and at Worthington, Minn., where high winds flattened crops, farmers took comfort from a third of an inch of rain.

Heavy rain fell at and near Rapid City in western South Dakota and rain followed a dust storm at Aberdeen where the temperature was 104 degrees.

AKRON, O., July 20—Production resumed in rubber factories today with promise of no unauthorized sitdown strikes of union rubber workers during the next six weeks.

Members of the United Rubber Workers of America in a closed meeting yesterday voted to continue work for the next six weeks without any sitdowns unless authorized by union officials and in the meantime to negotiate with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. officials. A strike of a month's duration and more than a dozen sitdowns have occurred at Goodyear since Jan. 1.

STAR WITNESS UNDER FIRE IN HAMM CASE

Defense Attacks Claim Former Police Chief Figured in Ransoming of Brewer

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, July 20—Defense counsel in the kidnaping trial of John (Jack) Peifer, former St. Paul night club owner, leveled an attack today upon the credibility of Byron Bolton, star witness for the prosecution and author of the statement that a former St. Paul police chief figured in the ransoming of Brewer William Hamm.

Attorney Archie Cary declared he would show that Bolton himself, a confessed member of the kidnaping gang, lied on the witness stand when he testified he knew how to operate a machine gun.

"We will show through testimony of witnesses and possibly through cross-examination of Bolton himself that he took part in the St. Valentine's day massacre in Chicago in 1929," Cary said. "We can prove that he was an expert machine gunner."

Seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters lined up in a garage were chopped down with machine guns in the massacre.

U. S. District Attorney George F. Sullivan said the government contemplated no action against Tom Brown, the Police Officer Bolton said was figured for $25,000 of the $100,000 ransom for keeping the gang informed of police movements. Brown was a member of the police kidnap detail at the time.

Brown was suspended after Bolton's testimony, but Sullivan said the three-year statute of limitations had outlawed the Lindbergh kidnap act's application to the Hamm kidnaping, which occurred in June 1933.

Governor Says He Wants All Available Data but Takes No Sides

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—Governor Martin L. Davey had some first hand information about the Townsend old age pension movement today, but said there was not the slightest chance of his making a statement either opposing or favoring the plan.

He visited for an hour yesterday with Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the plan, and Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith of Louisiana, who assumed the leadership of the late Sen. Huey P. Long's share-the-wealth clubs.

"We had a friendly visit," said Dr. Townsend.

"It was just a matter of a governor paying his respects to a great citizen on being held in his state," explained Mr. Smith.

"I came here for the day to confer with some of my political lieutenants. When the opportunity presented itself I came, of course, to gain as much political information as possible about this movement," said Gov. Davey, who left [illegible] Mrs. Davey [illegible] back to Columbus.

FAMILY MURDERER MUMBLES ABOUT SIN

Sunday School Superintendent Held in Strait Jacket After Snatching at Gun

By The Associated Press

ERIE, Pa., July 20.—A 40-year old Sunday school superintendent accused of slaying his wife and two children mumbled incoherently today about a cardinal sin after spending a night in a strait jacket.

The prisoner, Samuel C. Weed, quoted by Acting Police Chief Richard J. Dundon as admitting he fatally beat his family with a machinist's hammer, was placed in the jacket after he snatched at a guard's pistol and fought for its possession.

The wife and two curly haired children, David 5 and Charles 3, were killed Saturday morning. They were found by Mrs. Edna Beck, a distant relative living across the street, after Weed came to her home hinting about the tragedy.

He threw himself into the path of an automobile a few minutes later, receiving slight injuries.

Dundon quoted the man as saying:

"I committed a cardinal sin. I didn't want my wife and children to live. They were white and clean."

The officer said Weed did not talk further about the sin.

Three charges of murder were sworn out against the prisoner. Authorities said his arraignment may be held up until tomorrow or Wednesday, after he is recovered sufficiently to go to jail.

SEARCH FOR MISSING VESSEL INTENSIFIED

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., July 20—The sea held stubbornly to its latest secret today while ships and planes widened their search for the motorship Nuncon, missing with 22 aboard.

The 110-foot vessel sailed from Georgetown, Grand Cayman, in the West Indies July 1 and should have reached Tampa about four days later. She has not been heard from since sailing.

When the Nuncon headed north she carried provisions enough to last her 13 passengers and crew of nine about a week. She had no wireless equipment.

Owners' agents here pointed to the proven seaworthiness of the three-year-old craft to back their expressed belief that the Nuncon would be found afloat although perhaps disabled.

As liquidation of the estate of the late Dr. Harry A. Baker of Marion [illegible] with the sale of eight of 14 tracts of Marion property, [illegible] of his $27,51[illegible] estate, it was reported that oil rights on four tracts in Oklahoma City, Okla., have been sold for $5,000 plus a one-eighth interest in [illegible] of the property [illegible]

Negotiations for oil development rights were begun with the late Dr. Baker just prior to his death last Dec. 27 but were not concluded at that time, J. Wilbur Jacoby, attorney for the administratrix, said today.

The four lots in Oklahoma City do not represent all of the late Dr. Baker's property in that vicinity but they make up the only tracts definitely known to be in oil producing land.

The $5,000 outright payment with assurance of one-eighth interest of oil developed from the land recently was agreed on in negotiations between an oil company and the Baker heirs.

When Dr. Baker's Marion property was offered for sale Saturday, eight of the 14 tracts he owned were sold for a total of $1,905.

EDWARD'S ATTACKER TO FACE COURT SOON

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 20 — The prosecution launched today the preparation of its case against George Andrew McMahon as Scotland Yard wound up its search for witnesses of the attack on King Edward Thursday.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said he believed all useful witnesses now have come forward.

Alfred Kerstein, McMahon's attorney, planned to confer with his client as soon as prison officials would permit.

Sir Edward Tindal Atkinson, director of public prosecutions, started his consideration of Scotland Yard's report of the circumstances.

It will be Sir Edward's task to make any amendment he thinks necessary to the charge on which McMahon presently is held, possession of a revolver with intent to endanger life.

Fascist Dictator Aim of Rebels

PARIS, July 20—Spanish sources close to the legation said today the present rebel movement seeks the overthrow of the leftist "popular front" government and the establishment of a fascist rule in Spain.

These sources said the movement definitely was not aimed at the restoration of the monarchy.

The unofficial French opinion was that the rebellious elements of the army proposed to set up a fascist dictatorship similar to that previously maintained by Gen. Miguel Primo De Rivera, premier of Spain under King Alfonso.

A [illegible] the platform and [illegible] was the primary [illegible] woman suffrage [illegible] of campaign [illegible] of all and more [illegible]

The [illegible] a number of the [illegible] equal [illegible] a fair deal for all human kind.

In the campaign Taft refused to go out [illegible] Roosevelt from the summer [illegible] October spoke throughout the country. Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic nominee, did the same.

A Listless Campaign

Despite the exciting conventions of the three parties, the campaign had a listlessness about it, people assumed the Republican split assured a Democratic triumph.

The great question was the size of the Progressive vote.

The result was an overwhelming victory for Wilson. Taft carried only two states, Utah and Vermont. Roosevelt carried Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Washington and also received 11 of the 13 electoral vote of California. Wilson carried the remaining states with a total of 435 electoral votes, the largest number ever given to a candidate up to that time.

The popular vote however was closer. Wilson received 6,287,000, Roosevelt 4,119,0[illegible] and Taft 3,486,309. Roosevelt and Taft together had a plurality of some 1,300,000 votes over Wilson.

The Progressives with 638,[illegible] more votes than the Republicans vindicated their claim that they had represented the majority of the rank and file of the party at the time the Chicago convention nominated Taft.

Political Error Seen

Political students generally agree T R made a political mistake in bolting. Had he merely stepped aside, restrained his followers and preserved a negative attitude they hold Taft would have been defeated—but on the day after the election Roosevelt would have been in complete control of the Republican party.

That almost certainly would have meant his nomination in 1916, perhaps his election to the presidency and a great change in the subsequent political history of the nation.

John Barrymore To Marry Elaine Barrie in Autumn

By International News Service

NEW YORK, July 20 — Elaine Barrie will have her [illegible] night and [illegible] engagement [illegible] from [illegible] who played Caliban to her [illegible] Ariel and [illegible] after Oct. 23 they will be married.

The ring ceremony will be done by proxy, not in a scented bower on a balcony in the best Romeo and Juliet tradition but in the vaulted commercial halls of the Trade Bank of New York city.

The Trade Bank will hand over to the Chase National bank which acts as agent for the Beverly First National bank, a small packet from its safety deposit vaults which is marked with an "A". The ring will be in it.

Another larger package marked "B" will also be handed over. It contains a golden brocade man dating coat.

The Chase bank will send the packets to the Hollywood institution which in turn will hand it over to Elaine, who now is taking diction and dancing lessons getting ready to start on her Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract in August. It will be one of the strang[illegible] [illegible] of Shakespeare.

Guns Bought to Rid Marion of Beggars in '70s

Hark, hark, the dogs do bark
The beggars are coming to town.

The old rhyme is brought to mind by [illegible] related to writers for the Federal Writers Project, the American Guide [illegible] Charles H Allen of 28 South State street, great grandson of Eber Baker, founder of Marion.

Recalling the time when Marion was tramp infested back in the early 1870's, Mr Allen told an amusing story.

At first only a few tramps came to the city but within a few days the village was literally infested with knights of the road and the citizens became alarmed.

Grownups frowned and worried but the boys were thrilled by the adventure afforded in the "jungle" set up by the tramps. Parents protested but Mr Allen recalled that the boys played as close to the jungle as possible and as often as opportunity permitted.

The tramps soon became the vilar public enemies. They were offensive and not only did they beg handouts [illegible] but women became afraid to leave their homes alone.

Some of the men bought rifles, among them Mr Allen's father, when several attempts to rid the village of the pests were unsuccessful.

He proudly displayed his weapon, making a few boasts of his prowess, Mr Allen said. He couldn't keep this up very long because when he attempted to hit a target on the side of our barn he hit our prize chicken instead.

Before the tramps finally were driven out they set fire to the village causing considerable damage.

FUNERAL TUESDAY FOR HEAT VICTIM

The requiem mass for Mrs Anta Shea of 2[illegible]3 Ballentine avenue, whose death Saturday in the City hospital was Marion's second attributed to the extreme heat, will be celebrated Tuesday at 9 a m at St Mary Catholic church. Burial will be made in the St Mary Catholic cemetery. Friends may view the body at the A J McAndrew home at 233 Ballentine avenue.

GALION WOMAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Special to The Star

GALION, July 20—Mrs H G Shumaker is suffering with bruises and a bad head laceration which she received in an automobile accident Sunday noon.

The car in which she was riding with her husband collided with a car driven by Louis Metzger. Shumaker was driving east on Sherman street and Metzger was driving north on Fairview avenue. The Shumaker car struck a telephone pole as Shumaker tried to avoid hitting the other car. Mrs Shumaker struck the windshield and broke the glass.

Life is more precious than pennies

● Shocked by the death of so many people—bewildered by the scores stricken—America awoke two years ago to the realization that a new menace threatened the health of our Nation.

Here in a land where modern science has wrought so many wonders—where citizens boasted of a higher standard of living comfort than any other nation—men, women and children were suffering intense agony and dying of amebic dysentery caused by faulty plumbing.

Doctors, nurses and hospital attendants worked ceaselessly to relieve the suffering, to save lives and to prevent the spread of this insidious malady. But their work means little today, and those precious lives were lost in vain if we neglect our solemn duty to remove forever the real cause of such a tragedy.

Health Authorities agree that the immediate cause of this epidemic and the contributing cause of much sickness can be traced to faulty improperly installed plumbing. They are waging a vigorous campaign to warn the public of the danger that may result from trusting the important matter of plumbing installations and repairs to the uncertain hands of a "handyman."

Millions of dollars are spent by municipalities to insure fresh, pure, filtered water delivered to mains right in front of your home. What happens to this pure water inside your home depend upon your plumbing. Improperly installed fixtures, faulty piping and cross connections can contaminate or pollute water which may cause sickness and even death. And life is more precious than the pennies you might save using untrained men.

Health Authorities will tell you that it is unwise to trust the plumbing in your home to incompetent hands. Guard against danger by insisting that your plumbing must be inspected, installed or repaired only by the men best qualified by training and experience to protect your health—the Master Plumbers. Their work is so important that states and cities have laws not only regulating the installation of plumbing, but setting a standard for the Plumber himself.

In many states, Master Plumbers are examined as to their qualifications, licensed and registered. Most of the sanitary laws protecting public health and insuring the highest standard of professional skill have been passed through the insistence of the Master Plumbers themselves.

More than ever the Plumber protects the health of the Nation.

Husband: "I wish that wrecking car would come and pull us out of this mess."

Wife: "Yes, I'd like to get home and forget about this blow out. It gives me the creeps."

* * *

Don't try to "get by" on unsafe tires. It's too risky. Because the chances are better than even that, sooner or later you'll wind up by having a blow-out that will leave you with nothing but regrets and expenses.

If you have the safety of your family and your friends at heart—if you want to stay off the accident list this summer—here's why you should put a set of Goodrich Silvertown Tires on your car now.

Silvertown Tires have something that no other tire in the world has—the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This is a layer of special rubber and full floating cords scientifically treated to resist the blow-out causing heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. By resisting this heat the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps blisters from forming. Thus the dangerous high speed blow-out that might have caused a serious accident doesn't get a start.

Don't gamble with your tire dollars—and, above all, don't gamble with your life. Put a set of Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertowns on your car now. You'll get real blow-out protection—months of extra mileage and greater riding comfort without paying a penny extra. Remember, Goodrich Silvertowns cost much less than other super-quality tires.

Mrs. Thurn Gives New and Old Recipes for Preserves

[illegible] preserving fruits that [illegible] saved [illegible] your [illegible] shelves or table.

Whole Strawberry Preserves

One quart of strawberries, [illegible] and one-half cups sugar, [illegible] cups of water.

Gently boil the sugar and water together for fifteen minutes. Wash and hull the strawberries [illegible] cut the largest and most perfect ones. [illegible] the [illegible] broken ones for [illegible] jam and measure [illegible] the whole berries. Add the berries to syrup and boil eight minutes, no longer. Remove the berries with a skimmer or slit [illegible] place on a platter. Continue cooking the syrup for ten to fifteen minutes or until it is thick. Pour over the berries while hot. Allow to stand twenty-four hours before packing in jars. By this method the berries absorb the syrup, remain plump and never settle to the bottom of the jar. These preserves are delicious with ice cream.

Strawberry and Pineapple Jam

Pare and core a fresh pineapple. Put through the food grinder using the coarse blade. Be sure to catch all the juice. Use equal parts of pineapple pulp and strawberries. To every six cups of fruit use five cups of sugar. Mix and let stand for several hours or until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Cook slowly in a heavy preserving kettle until clear and thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal. This jam has a beautiful color and tangy flavor.

Spiced Figs

Four pounds of fresh figs, two pounds of sugar, three-fourths cup vinegar, three cups water, one tablespoon whole allspice, one tablespoon whole cloves.

Peel the figs, trimming closely around the stem. Wash quickly and dry on an absorbent paper. Mix in a preserving kettle the sugar, vinegar and water and dissolve over low heat. Place the spices in a muslin bag and add to syrup. Add figs and cook at a moderate rate until the figs are transparent and tender. This takes about three hours. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

Blackberry Jelly
(With Pectin)

Three quarts of berries, or sufficient to give four cups of juice, eight cups of sugar and one-half cup liquid pectin.

Wash the berries and crush with a masher. Squeeze through a jelly bag to extract the juice. Mix the fruit juice and sugar, stir and place on a low heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring mixture rapidly to the boiling point, add liquid pectin and boil hard for two minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal at once with paraffin.

Apple and Blueberry Butter

One quart of apples, one quart of blueberries and three pounds of sugar.

Wash and core apples, cut into quarters. Add water to cover and cook slowly until soft. Strain and measure quantities of berries and apples. Add the same amount of sugar and cook slowly until thick. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal with paraffin.

Tomato Mincemeat

Eight quarts of green tomatoes, two lemons, four pounds of brown sugar, two pounds seeded raisins, one tablespoon salt, two teaspoons cloves, one teaspoon allspice, one tablespoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ginger, one-half teaspoon mace, one cup vinegar.

Scald and peel the tomatoes. Put through a food chopper using a coarse blade with the lemons. Add sugar, raisins, vinegar and spices. Bring to a boil and cook slowly for an hour. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

For Tuesday, July 21

ACCORDING TO the lunar transits this should be a fairly active and progressive day both in business and personal life. There is a sign of favors, preferment or recognition of some sort in employment or in the good will of those in power and authority.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a token of appreciation, preferment or honors in employment, or at the hands of those in power who may have friendship and good will to offer. In social, domestic and romantic affiliations there is also assurance of lively and happy conditions.

A child born on this day may be industrious, talented and artistic as well as practical and ambitious. It may be gracious and popular, attaining success and happiness by its personality.

Notable nativity: Chauncey Olcott, Irish singer.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

[illegible]

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hilton has been [illegible] in [illegible] Nancy Leatherstone's house because Nancy thinks the man she loves, Dale Shipley, has [illegible] murdered [illegible] Burdett and has fled. Hilton thinks so too. Meanwhile Sergeant White [illegible] his helper, missing [illegible] tent with the [illegible] Inspector, is walking through the wood [illegible] Kill-dare. And there he sees his [illegible] in the midst of a rendezvous with a gamekeeper. White walks [illegible] in a stunned silence and is [illegible] when he hears his [illegible] at the door.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
Start of Catastrophe

ALICE came in as she usually did, with all the flurry of movement [illegible] life. It had been the [illegible] that had first attracted him; now he hated it.

Hallo Jimmy. Her voice was as apparently unaffected and sincere as ever and he hated that too. He did not turn round.

What are you doing here? she asked laughing. Going to get the tea?

He managed to speak and was astonished that his voice was [illegible] and calm.

I thought of it.

She tossed [illegible] a gay little tune. Here I'll see to it. I didn't think you'd be back so soon.

I suppose not.

Her quick hands were already busy amongst the crockery.

Did you have a good afternoon? she asked, and find out what you wanted?

Yes. Your [illegible] very untidy, he couldn't help adding.

Is it? Alice laughed [illegible] up her two hands [illegible] subdue that dark [illegible]. She started to hum.

Did you enjoy the pictures? White asked.

Yes, fairly well. I didn't stay for the full round though.

They [illegible] stars the man thought watching her.

The usual [illegible] and [illegible] stuff I suppose?

He saw the smile spread slowly over her face; he was waiting for it.

Yes, the usual [illegible] and [illegible] stuff, she agreed. Did you see your friend the Inspector? [illegible] for the kettle.

The Inspector? No, I haven't seen him yet.

Perhaps he's lost, she said with a laugh.

He wouldn't be the only one, White said sombrely. He looked up and for the first time since her coming in looked at her fairly and squarely.

You're a nice cheerful one to come back to, I don't think, she said.

White [illegible] actually smiled. He was learning deceit, it seemed, [illegible] a good teacher. Something which he could no longer control [illegible] White's brain [illegible] actually deepened.

I was out Syston way this afternoon, he said pleasantly. He saw her hand [illegible] on the handle of the kettle and all he regretted was that it was not tightening from physical pain.

Syston was [illegible] could [illegible]

Yes. Up in the Woods. The B[illegible] Wood.

The kettle lid clattered on the stone floor. She made to pick it up and then stopped, looking at him. He let her look and thirty seconds of silence passed.

What's the matter with picking up the kettle lid? he suggested. [illegible] her eyes left [illegible] and almost instantly flickered back again. Then she bent and retrieved the fallen lid.

Must have been [illegible] out there today, she said.

Especially [illegible]

She [illegible] that [illegible] moved [illegible] bread and butter. [illegible] hardly [illegible] the bread knife before [illegible]

I'll do that [illegible] Did you [illegible] you know at the pictures?

No.

That's awkward.

What d'you mean?

[illegible] Have you [illegible] been there it might be difficult to prove you had.

She straightened up from the table and looked directly at him, but her eyes were different [illegible] from when she had first come in. [illegible] from their dark depths now.

I don't have to prove to you for what I do every minute of the day, do I?

You said you were going on the bus to Manchester.

And who says I didn't?

Of course it would be easy to find out if you did. White continued as though he had not heard her. People never think of that.

Find out then.

You dirty dog!

The savage [illegible] silence was [illegible]

You saw us then [illegible] at last.

White lifted up the bread knife and held it at the end of the table [illegible] her reach.

[illegible] said and how [illegible] there [illegible]

[illegible]

Funny.

What [illegible] like being [illegible] more?

[illegible] first time [illegible] happened to [illegible]

[illegible] the last time it happens to me.

You haven't ever [illegible] what I've got to [illegible] couldn't help it I—

Go on.

[illegible] realize [illegible] I couldn't help it; that's all.

You liar! White [illegible] slowly in the chair at the head of the table and stared at her, his right hand playing with the handle of the long thin bread knife. And to think I once thought you were worth trying to keep, worth taking a risk for.

[illegible]

White [illegible] what [illegible] Nancy [illegible]

[illegible]

Maybe I [illegible] at all [illegible]

MONDAY JULY 20, 1936

Tugwell Has Landed

The adventures of Rexford G. Tugwell as an Idealist in the upside down kingdom of reality have been followed with interest and amazement by thousands of the professor's underprivileged brethren and sisters. It seems that another [illegible] climax is being approached.

Prof. Tugwell has just landed from a skyship in North Dakota. He and his buddies of the department of agriculture and the resettlement administration are about to save thousands of unhappy farmers in the drouth region. Their plan calls for a mass exodus of distressed families. Vacated land will be planted in buffalo grass or something.

As yet the all clear aloud signal hasn't been given from the White House, but it is known that there has been at least a partial meeting of minds. A gigantic project is in the making. The drouth, some say, has been a blessing in disguise. It has given Prof. Tugwell an opportunity to save somebody from something always essential just before an election.

Grandiose visions are being entertained—of a vast area turned back to grass—of grateful farm families being moved to a place where everything will be lovely, like the Matanuska valley up in Alaska. The new paternalism is itching to get on with the rescue. Tugwell has landed and the situation is under control.

A year from now, six months from now, or even in three months it will be interesting to check up on the progress of this latest heroism. Somehow the idea persists that once more the professor is going to stub his toe in the upside kingdom of reality.

It Didn't Hatch

The wish that the general assembly might be able to reach sine die adjournment by the end of last week was father to the thought that the interminable special session called last fall was going to end before Saturday night. Thanks to another disagreement on the relief bill, the session's termination again is a matter of speculation.

This is the legislative process at its best and worst. It is an illustration of the value of debate and compromise and also of the evil of bickering and delay. Without leadership and party responsibility it seems almost a demonstrable impossibility for the general assembly to perform its duty, particularly in a matter as complex and momentous as public relief.

The fact that so many Ohioans had counted a sine die adjournment egg which didn't hatch will remind the state once more of a proposal to abolish the two house legislature in favor of one single house. It is significant that the idea owes all its attention to the failures of the existing system rather than to any intrinsic merit of its own.

In Ohio and in other states dissatisfied and critical persons are beginning to think there would be everything to gain and nothing to lose by experimenting with some kind of a revision in their state legislatures. Certainly there is little in their performance of recent times to commend preservation in their present form.

Practical Men Say No

If the depression has accomplished nothing else, it has given economic and social theorists their inning. As the prosperity thermometer hit the zero mark the prophets and seers emerged from hiding, announcing that in their laboratories they had found the magic mixture which would bring the sun of prosperity back to the land.

A slight difficulty in the way of offering perpetual sunshine lay in the fact that few of the prophets had the same formula. Yet it must be admitted many of the formulas had a large dose of the same ingredient: government ownership [illegible] industries. If only that revivifying element were poured into the industrial thermometer the mercury of well being would [illegible] to the top.

Cynics insisted upon [illegible] that most of those who argued [illegible] government ownership never [illegible] a factory, shop or business of [illegible] were mostly academic uplifters.

It should be noted, however, [illegible] Cleveland recently [illegible] the railroad men decided [illegible] nothing to do with government ownership of railroads. Meeting in convention [illegible] Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers [illegible] unanimously went on record to that effect [illegible] well as fearing mergers and [illegible] loss of jobs they deemed [illegible] under government ownership [illegible] also viewed with alarm the prospect of negotiating wage and working conditions [illegible]

[illegible] the war [illegible]

What Is It To Be?

[illegible]

If the campaign [illegible] as has been predicted, the more abuse [illegible] the priest will not cleanse it. If the issue be fore the people are to be clarified by the forthcoming forum [illegible] such as that will not lead to [illegible] Admittedly, emotions [illegible] an important part in all political [illegible] but the emotional stream [illegible] as muddied.

It is too much to hope all debate will rise to the plane set [illegible] Mr. Lawrence. It is not too much to demand that it rise above the level indicated by Rev. Father Coughlin.

Easy Money

Announcement of [illegible] increase in reserve requirements of member banks by the federal reserve system's board of governors is of interest chiefly to bankers. Non-bankers, however, are interested in it for another reason.

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the reserve board, takes pains to make it plain that the increase is for preventive purposes. If the excess reserves which will be absorbed were to become the basis of a large expansion of bank credit, he explains, an injurious credit expansion would be the result.

He further explains that since the excess reserves are not being used they can be absorbed without injury to the Roosevelt administration's easy money policy. Here is the nub of banking as well as non-banking interest in the action.

The banking act of 1935 placed control of the federal reserve system in the hands of officials who may be expected to reflect the monetary philosophy of politicians. In other words, control of banking was moved closer to the White House than it ever had been before.

The current decision to absorb excess reserves to prevent injurious credit expansion seems to be both good banking and good politics. As yet, however, nothing has happened to alter the fact that if matters ever come to a point where the interests of banking and politics clash the politicians will speak and act instead of the bankers. For instance, would the order of higher reserve requirements have been given if it could not have been carried out without serious injury to the Roosevelt administration's easy money policy?

Productionitis

Henry Ford's contribution to original thought in his latest interview is a promise to prove that science can produce food more cheaply by processing the products of the soil than [illegible] chickens can [illegible] seems to mean that a chicken is [illegible] for changing corn [illegible] what meat and dairy [illegible]

Third Party Power Not Rated High

Lacks Elements Required To Affect National Election Result, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, [illegible], by The Marion Star)

[illegible] were [illegible] at this [illegible] to bring at the [illegible] and the method of [illegible] difficult [illegible] importance to [illegible] affecting the [illegible]

It is only [illegible] regular organization [illegible] parties [illegible] hat and even [illegible] range from [illegible] or nowhere to foot the [illegible] late George W. Perkins [illegible] hundreds of thousands [illegible] the Bull Moose party in [illegible]

[illegible] that the Lemke [illegible] that has to be done [illegible] The [illegible] of [illegible] third party of [illegible] appear to be causing a [illegible] negligible. As a [illegible] has [illegible] his [illegible] party [illegible]

[illegible] that individual congressmen [illegible] will not feel the lash of the [illegible] Coughlin-Townsend vote. But [illegible] handful of votes in each district [illegible] candidate on [illegible] is concentrated. In between [illegible] 100 congressional districts [illegible] the majority by which the last election was [illegible] less than 5,000 or therebouts. By [illegible] strength in certain districts [illegible] by making a strong [illegible] districts and neglecting [illegible] third party groups can do considerable damage and achieve a sort of balance of power. This might be done with less than 100,000 votes.

The Roosevelt administration is of course somewhat nervous about the affair at Cleveland. Unquestionably some of the pro-Roosevelt delegates in the Townsend convention went there for the specific purpose of heading off some of the attacks on the new deal.

There are Republicans [illegible] who are hoping to derive [illegible] from the Townsend movement. But the fact remains that the whole thing has been overemphasized and it will not be surprising if the final tally shows half as many votes as the late Robert La Follette obtained in his progressive movement of 1924, which was about 4,000,000.

Discord in the ranks of the Townsendites is also significant. It may affect the final result. The defection of Gomer Smith, vice president of the Townsend movement, who favors President Roosevelt, does not appear to be incidental. It looks as if Gomer Smith may head a [illegible] pension movement of his own and thus attempt to disrupt the whole thing. Such a break-up would unquestionably diminish the total vote cast and reduce the opportunity for an effect on the electoral voting.

Broadly speaking, the real question of what the effect of the Lemke-Townsend-Coughlin movement will be is related to whether there is to be a close race between Governor Landon and President Roosevelt. Those who believe the election is in the bag, as for instance Chairman James Farley, can hardly be concerned, at least outwardly—about the third party movement. Judging by what Chairman Hamilton is saying about the certain and overwhelming election of Governor Landon, it is difficult to see why any Republicans should worry either.

Politicians who disbelieve partisan predictions about the result this year will be inclined to the opinion that the defeat or reelection of President Roosevelt will not be materially affected by the third parties or the minor parties, and that the true significance of them all lies in the battle for control of congress in January, 193[illegible]

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 20.—One of the problems confronting campaign strategists of both parties is to preserve—or increase—their representation in congress.

All of the 435 house seats are to be filled. At present there are 314 Democrats, 100 Republicans, three Farmer-Laborites, seven Progressives and 11 vacancies.

Terms of only 32 senators expire, but included are some of the outstanding figures both on the majority and minority sides. There are 18 Democratic seats, 13 Republican and one Farmer-Labor. The Republican list is the largest to come up for at least another six years in the period of Roosevelt ascendancy, trimming down their representation markedly.

Only five Republican seats in the senate become vacant in 1938, the survivors of 1932; six Republican terms, one Farmer-Labor and one Progressive expire in 1940.

* * *

Over First Hurdle

Some southern senators, such as Glass of Virginia, Bailey of North Carolina and Bankhead of Alabama, already have come through the primaries and expect little opposition in November.

Southern or border state senators still facing either primary tests or possible opposition in the general election are Bachman of Tennessee, Byrnes of South Carolina, Harrison of Mississippi (he is cuffling with Bilbo factions), Logan of Kentucky (few Kentucky senators ever get second terms), Neely of West Virginia (the ursive Holt's primary attack), Russell of Georgia (Governor Talmadge may run for the senate), Gore of Oklahoma, Robinson of Arkansas and Sheppard of Texas.

Northern and western Democratic terms expiring and where contests are expected include Senators Bulow of South Dakota, Coolidge of Massachusetts (defeated in the primaries by James M. Curley), Hatch of New Mexico, Lewis of Illinois and Murray of Montana.

Norris Undecided

A three-cornered race has developed in Colorado for the Democratic nomination to succeed Senator Costigan, who is retiring.

A contest is expected to develop for every Republican vacancy with the possible exception of that of Sen. Norris of Nebraska, who has never [illegible] will run independently.

The Republican list includes Barbour of New Jersey, Couzens of Michigan, Hastings of Delaware (he is retiring), Keyes of New Hampshire (Gov. H. Styles Bridges, Republican, is after the seat), Metcalf of Rhode Island, White of Maine (Gov. Louis J. Brann, Democrat, contesting), Borah of Idaho, Capper of Kansas, Carey of Wyoming, Dickinson of Iowa and McNary of Oregon.

Schall, Republican, of Minnesota, Farmer-Labor, is not up this time for governor. [illegible] his place on the ticket to Gov. Floyd B. Olson.

* * *

Interesting

An interesting piece of political philosophy with as many finesses as a [illegible] was disclosed in the appearance of Sen. Glass of Virginia at the Democratic convention.

Heatedly as he was opposed to many of President Roosevelt's policies as proffered for a party platform, Sen. Glass appeared content not to combat them.

Partly, no doubt, he felt opposition a bit futile. But on more than one occasion he has indicated a belief that the party in power should give its president quite a portion of what he ask[illegible]

Man of Principles

A little more than a year ago Sen. Glass was taking up a [illegible] battle to [illegible] the $4,880,000,000 relief money without many strings attached.

It was a [illegible] of grand old pleasure to Glass that even as he fought for it he made almost [illegible] at the time he was carrying out as chairman of the senate appropriations committee.

Similarly he refused to go on the platform committee at Philadelphia to upset Rooseveltian requests not in keeping with the Glass principles.

He gave three reasons for his position, one public and two private. He was tired. That was the public reason. His private reasons, so his friends said, were these:

* * *

Behind the Paradox

First, he didn't intend to put himself in the false light of indorsing any Rooseveltian planks by holding a committee position.

Second, he considers Sen. Wagner, committee chairman, a socialist. (Sen. Wagner says he is not a socialist; is thoroughly a Democrat.)

Glass is no stranger to presidentially dictated platforms. It was no secret at the time that in 1916 Glass as committee chairman carried from President Wilson's hands a draft of the platform he expected the national convention at St. Louis to accept. Tradition and Glass associates say the convention accepted them with scarcely a change of a comma.

In his own mind Glass has canonized Wilson. He likely will not begrudge Wagner in like manner the right, if he choose, to canonize Roosevelt.

This column is substituted for the daily comments of Paul Mallon, who is on vacation, and will return Aug. 3.

PREFERENCE: Can't I have my fish up now, honey? I'm tired of looking at your father.

New York Notes

O. O. McIntyre's Diary of Fact, Fancy and Folks

NEW YORK, July 20.—In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal. We were hilarious at breakfast over the worm-turning magnificently last night. He's the sort of husband who shows off when company comes. This time he handed his wife a $50 bill with a flourish at the dinner table.

She sighed: "Just keep it. You'll take it back later anyway." [illegible] leaves. One of the average [illegible] has a drink called The Colonel Watterson. Named for Marse Henry, a hot toddy with [illegible] of mint. One of the most cultivated ladies we know and a [illegible] says: "He don't."

Came upon Edna Ferber and her sister, Fannie Ferber Fox, out walking. [illegible] Mrs. Fox is landing in all the big magazines now, too. What a glow for a devoted mother to have two such talented daughters.

And this is the [illegible] theme of the tome [illegible] the big events of his life [illegible] around rivers. Mark Twain's literary fortune and fame had as their inspiration the river in his blood. Edna Ferber plucked from the past the romance of river show boating, and it paid modern literature's biggest dividend. The river indeed is in all our blood.

Softball Pennant Races Narrow Down in 3 Leagues

Pennant races in the three twilight softball leagues are narrowing down to a fight to the finish battle between teams in the upper division of each loop. Although leaders of the respective leagues are far from permanent first place berths each game added to the victory column swings more weight to the winning teams.

Games set for this week will mark the eleventh round of the 14 game schedule and except for postponed games the twilight clubs will have but three more contests after this week. In Sunday school league No. 1 Forest Lawn holds first place with a one game lead over Lee street. The Epworth Seniors and Presbyterians are tied for third position and the Trinity Baptists follow in fifth place.

In games tonight Forest Lawn will meet Reformed at Garfield park. St Mary will clash with Trinity Baptist at Lincoln park. Lee street will tangle with Epworth No. 1 at the Marion Steam Shovel athletic field and the Presbyterians will cross bats with the Epworth Seniors at the President's field.

Epworth Bishops, leaders of the Sunday School league No. 2 race, hold a one game lead over Salem. The Bishops have lost but one of nine games and have a postponed conflict to play while Salem has won eight out of 10 contests. Wesley occupies third place and St Mary's entry follows in fourth.

The league will go into action Tuesday night when Calvary meets Epworth Bishops at Garfield park, Salem and United Brethren tangle on the President's field and St Mary No. 2 meets Wesley at Lincoln park. Christian, the seventh entry in the loop will be idle this week.

Headed by the undefeated Huber aggregation the Commercial league race has become a dog fight among the top notch entries. Huber has annexed nine straight games and holds a two game lead over its closest opponent, the Marion Steam Shovel team. The M. S. S. club is in second spot. Prospect holds third and the Keytown Campers and Marion Merchants are deadlocked for fourth.

Commercial league games to be played Thursday night follow: Huber against Lawrence Farm Market [illegible] President's [illegible]

Boston Regains Third; St Louis Browns Win Despite Two Gehrig Homers

By The Associated Press

[illegible]

All this in spite of a string of [illegible] tougher than [illegible] Frankie Frisch and his Cardinals [illegible] Mickey Cochrane and his Tigers have had to take. Injuries [illegible] taken their two top hitters, Radcliff and Luke Appling, [illegible] such others of their stars as Mike Kreevich, Mule Haas and [illegible]

They started their eastern swing in sixth place on July 9, the day after the All-Star game, and then they've won two out of three each from the Red Sox and Yanks, three straight from the Senators and four in a row over the Athletics.

The Sox stretched their winning streak yesterday to eight straight with a doubleheader victory over the Athletics, smashing out 28 hits for 15 and 8-2 decisions. With the Red Sox trouncing the Tigers [illegible] to regain third place the Chicago clouters moved into a [illegible] lock with the Detroits.

The Yanks had trouble with the lowly St Louis Browns, getting no better than a split despite Lou Gehrig's 27th and 28th homers to take the big league lead. After winning the opener easily 10-3 they fell 5-1 before Jack Knott's pitching in the nightcap.

The Cleveland Indians' winning streak which was even longer than the White Sox' was snapped at nine games as the tribe, after winning the opener [illegible] from the Senators, found Monte Weaver too tough in the nightcap and bowed [illegible]

The Cardinals pulled up a game behind the league leading Chicago Cubs in the National league race with a doubleheader victory over the Boston Bees 5-1 and 7-2 while the Cubs were getting no better than an even break with the Phillies. They won the opener 2-1 in 11 innings and then collapsed [illegible] before the four hit pitching of Rookie Claude Passeau in the nightcap.

The Pirates dropping their fifth straight by a 4-2 margin to the Dodgers on the strength of Van Mungo's hitless relief pitching, all but lost their third place standing as the New York Giants split with the Cincinnati Reds, losing the nightcap [illegible] after taking the opener [illegible]

UPPER SANDUSKY JURY GIVES VERDICT

Toledoan Found Guilty of Embezzling $4,050

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 20—After deliberation of one hour and five minutes by a jury of 10 men and one woman Saturday, Troy A Dahn of Toledo was found guilty of embezzlement of $4,050 from the Home of the Aged here. Defense attorneys will file a motion for a new trial on or before Tuesday. Judge Russell H Kear said the motion will be heard Aug 8. The jury retired at 1 p m Saturday and returned with the verdict at 2:05 p m. M S Newell was foreman of the jury. Dahn, who was seated directly behind his attorneys, took the jury verdict calmly. After the verdict had been read by Clerk of Courts Charles K Crise the defense asked for a poll of the jury which was taken. Judge Kear in excusing the jury commended them for their attentiveness during the trial.

Though [illegible] underlying [illegible] results from the lack of proper supervision of the child. Many a child [illegible] because he has associated with an adult with a speech defect. Children delight in mimicking their elders and will [illegible] fall into the same habit.

Let me warn you against forcing a child to use his right hand if he happens to be left handed. Many cases of stammering strange as it may seem have been traced to suppression of the left handed tendency. If a child shows a natural tendency to use the left hand leave [illegible] do not force him to use the right hand.

Many schools have special classes for overcoming speech defects. Supervised school work with special programs, plays and verse reading [illegible] recommended.

NEWS FROM CANADA BOOSTS WHEAT PRICE

Expert Says Only Half Crop Will Be Harvested as Result of Drouth

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 20—Authoritative unofficial estimates that Canada prairie provinces will harvest little more than half a crop this season hoisted wheat prices today notwithstanding corn market weakness.

As a result of more than 3000 miles of observation by a widely known Chicago crop expert the three prairie provinces, Canada's bread basket, were figured as promising to average not more than 10 bushels an acre. It was added that nearly one third of Canada's acreage is now practically a failure regardless of future weather.

Wheat closed [illegible] 1 cent to 1[illegible] above Saturday's finish, Sept 103[illegible] Dec 104[illegible] corn [illegible] down Sept 84[illegible] Dec 78[illegible] oats [illegible] ranged to [illegible] off and provisions unchanged to 12 cents up.
